

Developing an Effective AI Policy with Robust Institutional Buy-In – Balancing Legal and Ethical Approaches

Christopher Lang &
Christian Moriarty
Special Thanks –

A roadmap for policy development

- ▶ The why and the how
- ▶ Before the first session
- ▶ Values drive policy
- ▶ Redlining and legalese: a survival guide
- ▶ A new policy is born! Now what? Earning buy-in

Balancing Legal & Ethical - Why Important?

- ▶ Both an ethical approach and a legal approach to academic integrity policy-making are key
- ▶ Discussion should provide a focus that enables you to look through the lens of your policy when attending other sessions
- ▶ A merge of both approaches creates the ideal policy and process structure
- ▶ Each institution has a unique culture, and therefore will strike a different balance between the approaches – this is OK!!!
- ▶ Give you tools to honestly analyze and assess your policies through these lenses

So you want a new AI policy

- ▶ First, your current policy. You have a policy, right?
- ▶ Does it need translation?
- ▶ What's not working? What is?
- ▶ Where is it posted? How do students, faculty, and staff locate and use it?

Gathering the data

- ▶ Making the argument
  - ▶ Do you even have data?
- ▶ Compare the size of your institution to the number of cases
  - ▶ There is no “good” or “bad” number here
  - ▶ Higher reports may mean your policy is effective!
- ▶ Are there any things that stick out in your data?
  - ▶ Departments, demographics, time of year, etc.
- ▶ Who are your stakeholders? Invite them! Multiple times!
  - ▶ Go beyond the obvious
  - ▶ Student government, chairs, clubs, athletics, student life, dormitories, faculty senate, online services, diversity

What do we mean by “Ethical Approach”?

- ▶ Ethical (or Academic) Approach
  - ▶ What do we normally think of when we discuss ethics or integrity?
- ▶ Values
- ▶ Right vs. Wrong – where does the institution draw the line?
- ▶ Setting Standards
- ▶ Responsibilities and duties of the entire academic community
  - ▶ Faculty, Staff, Students

Values drive policy

- ▶ Gather your stakeholders, as many as you can
- ▶ Ask: What are the values of your institution?
  - ▶ Collaborative atmosphere
  - ▶ Ask online and off!
- ▶ Are these values represented in your current policy?
  - ▶ If not, how can they be?
- ▶ What kind of policies represent the values you're looking for?
- ▶ Possible attributes: facilitator models, restorative justice, zero-tolerance, formal/informal processes, advocates...

A word cloud of various values and virtues. The word 'fairness' is the largest and most central. Other prominent words include 'cooperation', 'cheerfulness', 'diligence', 'citizenship', 'compassion', 'moderation', 'courtesy', 'kindness', 'selfcontrol', 'equality', 'cleanliness', 'trustworthiness', 'knowledge', 'democracy', 'tolerance', 'pride', 'commitment', 'loyalty', 'creativity', 'punctuality', 'generosity', 'patriotism', 'truth', 'honesty', 'perseverance', 'frugality', 'dependability', 'accomplishment', 'collaboration', 'justice', 'courage', 'patience', 'truthfulness', 'sportsmanship', 'diversity', 'productivity', 'honor', 'selfrespect', 'virtue', and 'generosity'.

cheerfulness diligence citizenship compassion moderation courtesy kindness selfcontrol equality cleanliness trustworthiness knowledge democracy tolerance pride commitment productivity honor fairness loyalty creativity diversity selfrespect virtue punctuality patience truthfulness generosity courage sportsmanship patriotism truth justice perseverance honesty collaboration frugality dependability accomplishment

What do we mean by “Legal Approach”?

- ▶ Legal Approach
  - ▶ What do we normally think of when someone speaks of a legal approach to a policy or problem?
- ▶ What is permitted and what is prohibited
- ▶ Rules
- ▶ Process
- ▶ Fairness
- ▶ Adjudication of Rights

Why Ethical Approach is Important in AI Policy-Making

- ▶ The ethical approach:
  - ▶ Frames the values and articulates the expectations for the University community with regard to academic integrity.
  - ▶ provides the lens through which these types of institutional policies are implemented with the ultimate goal of the academy in mind: good global citizenship.

Why Legal Approach is Important

- ▶ Supports Fairness and Ensures Certain Standards and Robust Decision-Making
  - ▶ Transparency
  - ▶ Right to Receive Reasons
  - ▶ Reasonable Notice
  - ▶ Right to be Heard and to Know the Case Against You
  - ▶ Impartial Decision-Makers
  - ▶ Right to Appeal

Competing or Complementary Approaches?

- ▶ Legal Approach and Ethical Approach - appear to be at odds, but both are valuable and consistent with each other
- ▶ Culture of Institution will inform the Balance Between the Two policy approaches – institution's policy is informed by its own culture
- ▶ What is institutional or organizational culture?
- ▶ https://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Organizational\_culture
- ▶ <https://gothamculture.com/what-is-organizational-culture-definition/>

Competing or Complementary Approaches? - Continued

- ▶ Best Practice - Policies that Balance these two approaches:
  - ▶ Ethics and Integrity as an institutional value; PLUS
  - ▶ Legal approach ensures there is robust decision-making in the event of an ethical breach prohibited by policy

Analyzing AI Policies

- ▶ Does your Policy balance the two approaches?
- ▶ If yes, in what ways?
- ▶ If not, why?
  - ▶ Look at the history – Authorship? Legal review? Number of cases historically? Who is the decision maker?
  - ▶ Has there been a high profile issue that placed or re-balanced the emphasis in the policy on one approach over the other?
  - ▶ What is the legal regime where you are?

Analyzing AI Policies - Continued

- ▶ Ethical Approach – does your policy say why AI is important as an institutional value?
- ▶ Is Academic Integrity explicitly or implicitly articulated in your institution's values?
- ▶ Does your policy set out the responsibilities of all community members – faculty, staff and students?
- ▶ Does it contain an educational or remedial component?
- ▶ Does your policy clearly lay out step by step what happens if there is a “breach?”
- ▶ Is your policy clear and accessible to all readers?
- ▶ Does your process contemplate “due process” considerations, i.e. the right to be heard?

Mechanics – What goes in the Actual Policy?

- ▶ Policy – large P policy
- ▶ Rules
- ▶ Procedure Documents
- ▶ Guidelines
- ▶ Other - General Communications

What legalese do you need?

- ▶ Real answer: precious little
- ▶ American law?
- ▶ 14th Amendment and process
  - ▶ Whatever you got, you gotta follow it
- ▶ The greater the stakes, the greater the process
- ▶ Standards of proof
  - ▶ Arbitrary and capricious
  - ▶ Substantial Evidence
  - ▶ Preponderance of evidence
  - ▶ Clear and convincing
  - ▶ Beyond a reasonable doubt
- ▶ FERPA, ADA
- ▶ Syllabus as literal contract

The Teachable Moment

- ▶ Procedure is great, education is better
- ▶ What is the goal of higher education?
- ▶ Prevent worse future issues
- ▶ Two tracks
- ▶ Student success

Let us proceed!

- ▶ Find your champions
- ▶ Go to where they are, mentally and physically
- ▶ Talk and listen
- ▶ Marketing!
- ▶ Make it as simple as possible
- ▶ Reminding of purpose
